

Hi there, I'm Anton Kuziukou

Front-end developer from Minsk

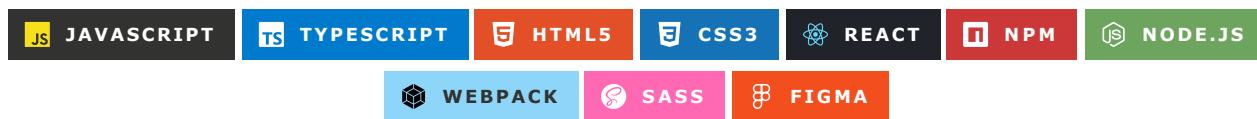

I am a budding frontend developer with a strong commitment to building visually appealing and user-friendly websites. Although I am relatively new to the industry, I have acquired a solid understanding of HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, and I am quickly gaining proficiency in frameworks like React. I am constantly seeking opportunities to expand my knowledge. With a positive attitude, excellent communication skills, and a drive for self-improvement, I am eager to contribute to projects and grow as a frontend developer.
